Factory Mounted Duct Smoke Detector

Ruskin's Fire Smoke dampers lead the industry with innovative technology that incorporates both controlled closure, which protects duct systems from pressure related failure, and our electric fuse link that permits verification and testing from a remote location.

Now, Ruskin makes the best even better, with factory mounted and wired duct smoke detectors available on our Fire/Smoke dampers. As with our factory provided sleeves and picture frame mounting angles, an integral pre-wired detector saves time and money at the job site.

Ruskin's leadership in the development of fire/life safety products addresses the increasing demand for fire/smoke management systems. It's just one more way we make it happen for you! For more information on our complete line of dampers and louvers, contact your local Ruskin representative.
